With its convenient location near medical centers and hospitals, Regency House is in the hub of a healthcare community in south Angelo.

Britney has been an administrator since 2007. She started as a physical therapy assistant and served as a PTA for 18 years. Her experience includes opening a new nursing home from the ground up and overseeing a nursing home that was the central intake facility for seven senior living communities during the initial Covid outbreak.

Britney was raised in a small community and during her upbringing had a close relationship with her grandparents. These early years influenced her desire to work with older adults, and to understand their wisdom, stories, and the perspectives gained over their lifetime. Her passion for geriatric clients to feel heard and her desire to support and assist those in a vulnerable phase of life have been her driving force while working with older adults.

Britney holds an LNFA designation and a BA in Occupational Education Specializing in Long Term Care from Wayland Baptist University. Her education and passion make her an ideal member of Regency House's experienced care team, known for creating individualized care plans for a short-term rehab stay, post-surgery recovery, long-term care, and VA.

Outside of work, Britney enjoys her roles as a daughter, a sister, a friend, and as "Aunt B." A former college basketball player, she continues to enjoy sports at every level and has an overall appreciation for music. She also loves to keep learning about all aspects of health and wellness.
