

Imagine the convenience of rehab...

At a community that cares – Caraday of Corpus Christi Assisted Living.

While living it up at Caraday of Corpus Christi Assisted Living, residents enjoy engaging activities and a sense of community, but also the assurance of professional care should they need it. Unlike most assisted living communities, Caraday of Corpus Christi Assisted Living residents appreciate the value-added benefit of rehab services located at the community – physical, occupational, speech, or wellness therapy .

Rather than having to leave the campus or use outside services, residents benefit from the convenience and personally knowing the same consistent rehab team. The professional team works closely with individuals and their families to create individualized care plans to reach optimal health for the highest quality of living.
